

SUPERIOR A.R.T.

International Patients Information

Superior A.R.T. has been established by the joint venture of Sydney IVF, Australia's premier IVF treatment provider, and several Thai experts in infertility and IVF treatment, to create a centre of excellence in Assisted Reproductive Technology laboratories in Asia. Uniquely we have a strong commitment to research and are at the forefront of genetic diagnosis and testing.

1. How long you will need to stay?

If you live outside Bangkok, Thailand, you can have all your lead-up monitoring done at your doctor's clinic and come to Superior A.R.T. just for the egg collection and embryo transfer procedures. In this case you would only need to stay for about 2 weeks.

Some countries can only provide the initial stages of monitoring, up until you need to start having ultrasounds, at which stage you will need to come to Bangkok. This would then require 2 weeks stay to cover the last step of the monitoring and the procedures. To have the whole cycle in Bangkok, you will need about 3 weeks from the first day of ovarian stimulation to the day of embryos transfer. We are willing to collaborate with any of your local doctor.

Visas

Travelers are required to have an onward ticket to enter Thailand. Citizens of most nations can get a 30-day visa upon arrival. Two-week extensions can be obtained by going to the immigration Office, located near the Silom business district (507 Suan Phlu Road; Tel: 66 2 287 1740 or 66 2 287 3101) with a photocopy of your passport (every page), two photographs, and the extension fee of 500 baht. Agencies can facilitate this process, with pick up and delivery service to your hotel room. More information about visas can be found on www.mfa.go.th.

Climate

There are three seasons: rainy (June to October), hot (March to May), and cool (November to February). Annual average temperature is about 29 degree Celsius with monthly averages ranging from 35 degree Celsius in April to 26 degree Celsius in December.

Time

Time in Thailand is 7 hours ahead of Greenwich Mean Time (GMT+ 7).
